English literature

Given in 1911 by Auguste Angellier (1848-1911), the Laurenge-Angellier Donation (18.000 items) is part of the Heritage Collections of the University Library. He was the first English language and literature teacher at the Arts Faculty of Lille, before being its Dean from 1897 to 1900.

Its core areas are English history and studies, and most particularly the Irish 19th century literature and studies (completed by a collection of 4.000 items from the Patrick Rafroidi Library).

Special collections for research in Polish studies at Lille

2011-2013: 10.000 items were catalogued and valued for researchers. Conservation and digitization projects are in progress for Polish newspapers published in France since WW1.
